Biographies

Mr. Nandkumar Vele is an Assistant Professor in Mechanical Engineering Department at Pimpri Chinchwad College of Engineering and Research, Pune, India. Presently he is doing PhD in mechanical engineering at RSCOE, Savitribai Phule Pune university, Pune, India. He has completed Masters in Mechanical Engineering and has wide experience of teaching various thermal Engineering subjects. He has 09 years of Teaching experience in leading engineering institutes in India and also having ten years of industrial experience. He has worked in various key positions in engineering institutes. He has published two papers in International Journals.

Prof. Dr. R. K. Patil is an Principal at Government Polytechnic College, Hingoli, Maharashtra State, India. He was professor in Savitribai Phule Pune university, Pune having 22 years of teaching experience in leading engineering institutes. He was completed Masters in Mechanical Engineering and having specialization in thermal Engineering subjects like Internal Combustion Engines, Heat Transfer, Thermodynamics and hydraulics. He has published more than 30 research papers in international conferences and reputed journals. He is fellow member of institution of engineers and also chartered engineers. He is a lifetime member of Indian Society of Technical Education. He is research guide in Savitribai Phule Pune university, Pune.
