Biography

Milad Khajehnezhad is currently a fulltime senior credit risk modeler in Realtyshares, a leader in real estate crowdfunding. Mr. Khajehnezhad holds a Master of Science degree in Industrial Engineering from University of Wisconsin Milwaukee. He is a credit and portfolio risk manager with about 4 years of experience in working with large banks and peer-to-peer lending platforms. He has also accomplished various operations research and data analytics projects in supply chain networks design (location-inventory models) and high-volume production lines simulation. He has served as a reviewer for Transportation Research Part E: Logistics and Transportation Review journal.
